

Sign up for the Student Poster Contest
at the
STAR-TIDES CAPABILITIES DEMO
April 14, 2025

Are you a student conducting research or working on a project in an area related to forced migration, community resilience, disaster response and recovery, emergency management, climate science, climate policy, climate engineering, and/or fostering human health and security? You are encouraged to submit a poster to our poster contest! The top two posters will win cash prizes!

Posters will be displayed at the STAR-TIDES Capability Demo on April 14 at George Mason University's Mason Square Campus in Arlington, VA. Contestants will give a short presentation to judges at the event. Winners will be announced at the Reception the evening of April 14, 2025.

Contestants must be enrolled as students at George Mason University in the Spring 2025 semester.
